

International Ship & Port Security

PORT/OFFSHORE FACILITY SECURITY OFFICER (PFSO/OFSO)

In November 2001 the International Maritime Organisation (IMO) agreed to the development of new measures relating to the security of ships and of port facilities. The result was the International Ship and Port Facility Security (ISPS) Code. This code was enacted as an amendment to the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea, 1974 (SOLAS 74), as of 1 July 2004.

Drafted in 2003 as the Maritime Transport Security Act 2003 (MTSA), Australian legislation was amended to include Offshore Oil and Gas Facilities and renamed the Maritime Transport and Offshore Facility Security Act 2003 (MTOFS Act 2003). The amended Act and regulations govern Australia's Maritime Security Environment.

Within the Federal Government Department of Home Affairs, the Aviation and Maritime Security Division (previously Office of Transport Security) has been established as the Federal body responsible for the regulation of the Act.
